

Model, Style and Psychoanalytic Review of Health Today

By Shomit Sirohi

I. Health in A Normal Work Day and in Lives in General without the Dimension of Sirohian Psychoanalysis

From a model's standpoint I would write a psychoanalytic review that the pre-occupation with a contract and its dues then is a symptom of the woman's looks - that the wage and legal contract dissolves each modelling life into normalism, which in Freud means a crisis of normal life, in extension to all people in the world of the progressive left then - tragic existence and failure in politics which then in model's perception is "La infinidad que es?" Which means where does infinity fall in this whole context of crisis lives? I answer that perhaps it is infinite in many senses, like the sense of life and sexuality, and appearance of Argentine clothing and Spanish clothing with some Islamic and Christian Bibles to appear Prophetic as a saying "La chica esta muy interesante y infinita, como una gracia y sexualidad infinita con su pareja Sirohi." I call this a prophetic saying when it is meant forever, in the sense of a certain performative which is radical not a simple empty gesture or even meaningful gesture, but an stylish gesture in fact.

II. Modelling Health Steps and Sexual Infinity therefore

First the crisis, then its overcoming by a sexual step - the man is radically dying at 100, which repeats throughout life as steps and points in the militant analysis of the future, in psychoanalysis this is shifted to a parallax "She walked past him and was wearing a skirt and he caught her passing by and said something philosophical - Breathless."

It means that the modelling of steps then is pronounced as a sexual ass which is part of sexual cathecsis in a act called sex or love - this then pronounces the parallax - breathless - which is the part one misses in normal life - that there can be an appearance of sex in life - I mean it is a appearance denounced in favour of radicalism and politics -for praxis to appear and Communism, without the dimension of sex, - "La problema de sex, es esta una apparencia desde y la negacion desde es una problematica - que hay la apparencia?"

How can there be a world of Communism without the dimension of sex, wealth and even modelling and art as constant revolution - it is the thing deprived of its substantial artistic cogito and so failed and failed tragic.
